Perry, operator on the typesetting machine in The Sun-Sentinel office at Winchester, was caught in the belting Saturday as she attempted to stop the engine, and was carried rapidly toward the shafting. Coroner Wood held an inquest over the remains of the infant found in the Church-yard vault Sunday. The Jury was unable to develop testimony as to cause of death or parentage of child. It will probably never be known who committed the awful crime. It is certain, however, if the mother has a particle of human feelings her conscience will be a perfect hell till her dying day.

"HAMLET"

The Evening Star, St. Catharines, Ontario, Canada, says—

The audience that greeted Edward N. Hoyt at the Grand last night was critical and appreciative, and rarely has the curtain been rung up on an evening's performance that gave more satisfaction. Mr. Hoyt's impersonation of "Hamlet" is of a character to excite admiration and a longing for a return visit. His support last night was of a quality only too rare in these days of "one man shows." Everyone on the stage was an artist, fitted for his or her part with a truthfulness to detail rarely seen in traveling companies, but special mention should be made of Fannie Hoyt's "Ophelia."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. GREEN GOODS CHARGE

Society Woman and Her Husband Arrested at Huntington Sunday

Mrs. Mollie McElroy, prominently known and who moved in the best social circles, was arrested at Huntington Sunday morning and taken before United States Commissioner Gibson, charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes.

In the afternoon her husband, J. C. McElroy, was taken from a C. and O. train while en route to Cincinnati, on a similar charge.

The warrant was issued at the instance of Postoffice Inspector Whorten of Parkersburg, who alleges that McElroy and his wife have been jointly engaged in the "green goods" business.

McElroy has been traveling extensively through Eastern Kentucky, touching at Maysville and Covington, and, it is charged, has been using the name of J. C. Morn.

Friday afternoon last an official from the Postoffice Department at Washington arrived in Maysville to work up the case. He went to Toluosa that night, returning here about 1 o'clock.

Catching a C. and O. freight shortly after, he left for Trinity, Lewis county, and up to yesterday had not reported at the Maysville office.

McElroy is in jail at Huntington. His wife gave bond, several influential business men of Huntington going bail without solicitation.

After his arrest McElroy, it is alleged, made a confession implicating six men and one woman. They have been passing counterfeit money, it is stated, in Maysville, Huntington and other places.

ECZEMA

The World's Greatest Skin Humour.

Affects Every Age and Condition.

The Only Sure Cure is Cuticura.

If there were not another external skin disease known, eczema would be a sufficient infliction on mankind. It pervades all classes, and descends impartially through generations. While some are constantly enveloped in it, others have it confined to small patches in the ears, on the scalp, on the breast, on the palms of the hands, on the limbs, etc., but everywhere its distinctive feature is a small watery blister, which discharges an acrid fluid, causing heat, inflammation, and intense itching, scaling and crusting.

The Cuticura treatment is at once agreeable, speedy, economical and comprehensive. Bathe the affected parts freely with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent, or Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood. This treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humours, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure of torturing, disfiguring humours, eczemas, rashes and inflammations, from infancy to age, when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

Send the sample Cuticura Resolvent, in form of Chocolate, or Pills, 25c. per vial of 80.

Water boils at different temperatures, according to the elevation above the sea level. In London water boils practically at 212 degrees Fahrenheit; in Munich, Germany, at 209 degrees; in the City of Mexico at 200 degrees; and in the Himalayas, at an elevation of 18,000 feet above the level of the sea, at 180 degrees. These differences are caused by the varying pressure of the atmosphere at these points. In London the whole weight of the air has to be overcome. In Mexico, 7,000 feet above the sea, there is 7,000 feet less of atmosphere to be resisted, consequently less heat is required and boiling takes place at a lower temperature.

HEARD SOME TESTIMONY

Dr. A. N. Ellis Tells Some Things
He Heard at the Trial of Reed Smoot

Some Interesting Notes Jotted Down and Given to Ledger Readers
as Only Dr. Ellis Can

Dr. N. Ellis, who has just returned from Washington City, has some very interesting things to say in regard to the Mormon investigation which is just now going on before a select committee of the Senate. In talking to a reporter of this paper he says: "When I got to Washington I went straight to the Senate and sent in my card to one of the members, whom I used to know in Cincinnati. He was very busy at the time, and sent me word to go to a certain room and wait there until he came. This I did, and found it was the place where they were taking testimony in the Reed Smoot case. About fifty persons were in attendance. The hands of the clock pointed to 10 a. m., and soon Senator Burrows of Michigan came in, took the chair at the head of the table; Foraker of Ohio sat on one side of him and Dubois of Idaho on the other. The proceedings were those of any ordinary Court, both sides being represented by counsel. Burrows administered the oaths. The first witness was an old Englishman—a typical John Bull of a fellow—who soon showed that he was there to tell all he knew, and that was a good deal. His name was Wallis; born and brought up in London. He said that he had been a Mormon since 1851, and that he had followed his son to Utah in 1890. He went on to say that he had been a "Block Teacher" in Salt Lake City, and had been through the Endowment House some twenty times. He made a good witness and was quite dramatic at times, and made a marked impression upon all present. He said that the obligations they took in passing through the Temple were many and that the usual time in going over the regular ritual was two hours. They were never to reveal what they saw under the following penalties: First—That the throat was to be cut from ear to ear and the tongue plucked out by the roots; Second—The breast cut asunder and the heart torn out of the body; Third—The abdomen opened and the bowels taken out. Another obligation was that every true Mormon was to give his time, labor and property to the Church and to never cease to pray that high heaven should curse all of those who had persecuted the saints. This was followed by a quotation from Revelations, vi, 9: "The souls of those slain cried aloud on the altars for vengeance."

Mr. Wallis said that he had got enough of the Mormon Church and had told his Bishop that he had quit. He admitted to having had two wives and had found that one woman was enough to keep a man poor! He said that it was a regular thing for men and women to be divorced after they were dead, and that he had known many a living man to be "sealed" to a dead woman, and that he himself had been married quite a number of times by proxy. I don't exactly know just what that means, but that is what he said.

The next witness was President Bramhill of the Brigham Young University. He said that he had been there nine years, and that the school had 1,000 students. Reed Smoot was one of the Board of Trustees and often talked to the boys at morning Chapel exercises and urged them to be square in all their dealings and that honesty was the basis of all true religion. In his opinion Reed Smoot was a great and good man.

The third witness was Prof. Hickman of the chair of Astronomy and Psychology in the same school, and had two wives and thirteen children. He said that his first wife had become an invalid in 1883 and that he had sent her at once to a hospital, where she had been ever since. His second wife he had married in old Mexico in 1890. He, too, thought that Smoot was all right and ought to retain his seat in the Senate.

Next came a woman on the stand and said that what took place in the Endowment House was too bad to talk about in a mixed crowd. At this Senator Burrows told her to go right ahead and tell all that she knew. She did say a good deal, but she sobbed and wailed so much over what she had suffered at the hands of the lecherous and half-nude Priests that my heart went out to her in the deepest sympathy. She said that the Church was mightier than the state, and that just before the election there was a revelation from God that all good Mormons should vote the Republican ticket.

Next came one of the Apostles. I have forgotten his name. He was an old sinner from away back. His nose had the red glow of a rich tropical sunset, and that breath of his would kill mosquitoes at a half a mile. He seemed to be a very rough and stubby old rascal, if he was an Apostle, and when he would go to jail before he would answer certain questions! I only wished that Judge Harbison had hold of him. He admitted to having been married four times. When asked how many children he had, he replied, "Let me think." He then stood up, (he had to get on his feet so that his mind would stand the strain,) shut his eyes for a little while and then replied, "Only seventeen." While he was standing there with his eyes closed I could only think of how some boys used to look at school when they spread a dog-eared spelling-book on the desk in front of them, shut their eyes and then begin to count the marbles in their breeches pockets. That man started out to bluff the Court, yet he admitted lots of things that will come up against him in the day of judgment.

That day's proceedings showed me that that Court of Inquiry was trying to unearth the secrets of the Endowment House. The next thing to do will be to show that Reed Smoot has gone through it; and then the question will be, is such a man fit to help make the law for this great country?

Among the spectators were many of the most prominent Church people in the land. To me the whole thing was very interesting and some of it quite amusing, and yet I came away with sorrow in my heart that we have such a damnable organization as the Mormon Church in this great land of ours.

Not one bride was over twenty-two years old in the 346,590 marriages which, according to the latest census, took place in Japan last year. Forty-two were only fifteen, 759 were sixteen, 3,484 were seventeen, 17,406 were nineteen, and 16,100 were twenty.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out. "Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds, which speedily developed into the worst kind of a grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knee and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grippe. These Tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or attack of the grippe. For sale by all Druggists.

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well-fed, but thin, spare men who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by all Druggists.

“There Isn't One
Really Good
Printer in Five Hundred.”

Printers' Ink—the leading journal on publicity of all kinds—has the following to say: “There are thousands of printers in this country, good, indifferent, and a lot of bad ones. There isn't one really good printer in five hundred. Intelligent advertisers are willing to pay for good printing, no matter where it comes from.”

Printers' Ink knows what it is talking about. Poor printing is a bad investment—it's worse than a bad investment. No stationery or booklet is like a traveling man; if it's neat, well-dressed and to the point, the first impression is good and your chances of doing business on its strength it are good.

We realize that it is a bad investment to let a bum job get onto our presses. No press in the country can better our printing and we want you to know it.

Christmas...

Hints to Lady and Gentlemen Friends.

This is the season of the year that we always have the pleasure of waiting on hundreds of lady patrons. We enjoy it, too. Wish there were more holiday seasons, for the ladies cannot come too often. We are aware that good old St. Nick finds it very hard work filling men's socks with suitable gifts. A MAN LIKES SOMETHING HE CAN WEAR. But have a care; he doesn't want "bargain counter" stuff; he wont wear antiquated Neckwear. Get his present where he buys his wearables. Get them HERE, and then you can't go Wrong. This whole store is a veritable Christmas tree of gifts. Beautiful Ties, Faultless Shirts, just right Underwear, substantial Half Hose, fine Linen Handkerchiefs, good Collars and Cuffs, Handsome Umbrellas, Silk Suspenders, Silk and Wool Mufflers. Let us be your official stocking filler, and "he" will be highly pleased.

Don't Wait Till it's Too Late—Follow
the Example of a Maysville Citizen.

Rescue the aching back.
If it keeps on aching, trouble comes.
Backache is kidney ache.
If you neglect the kidneys' warning,
Look out for urinary trouble—diabetes.
This Maysville citizen will show you how to go to the rescue.

Edward Oliver of 108 West Fourth street
says:

It did not require an entire box of Doan's Kidney Pills to entirely end backache which had troubled me for a considerable length of time. I procured the remedy at J. Jas. Wood & Son's Drugstore, corner of West Second and Market streets and my advice to any one in need of a kidney cure is to try Doan's Kidney Pills and they will not be disappointed at the results obtained."
